Prevention Subcommittee Charter

Overview

The President’s Advisory Committee for Sexual Assault Prevention (PAC) is charged with conducting a comprehensive and objective evaluation of the University’s training, prevention, and response efforts, as well as policies and procedures.

In consort with PAC, the Prevention Subcommittee will seek to learn and gather input from stakeholder groups and subject matter experts to promote prevention efforts on campus. The subcommittee will also be guided by best practices in higher education, focusing specifically on those with measurable successful outcomes.

Vision

The Prevention Subcommittee will seek proactive strategies to prevent all forms of sexual misconduct. We will examine environmental, structural, and cultural dimensions of the University community that may perpetuate sexual misconduct and work to identify interventions that promote health and safety for all community members.

Specific Responsibilities

The specific responsibilities of the Prevention Subcommittee include:

- Review current prevention best practices at peer and aspirant institutions
- Analyze institutional sexual misconduct data
- Audit University’s prevention efforts and evaluate their effectiveness
- Examine campus environmental, structural, and cultural factors that impact prevention efforts
- Collaborate with the Education Subcommittee
- Make recommendations to the University community aimed at preventing sexual misconduct in all forms

Input from Stakeholders

To develop recommendations, the Prevention Subcommittee will engage the following stakeholders and subject matter experts:

- PSMAs
- Spiders for Spiders
- Greek Affiliated Students
- Student Athletes
- Students who identify as LBGTQ
- Prevention experts in higher education
- Staff and faculty at peer institutions engaged in best practices
Membership

- Ashleigh Brock ’05, Associate Director, Career Services
- Tara Casey, Director, Carrico Center for Pro Bono and Public Service, Richmond Law
- David Lyons, B’87, URAA Board Member
- Dave McCoy Chief of University Police
- Peter Smallwood, Associate Professor of Biology
- Claire Comey, ’19
- Michael Tyler York, ’19
- Staff to the Subcommittee, Tracy Cassalia

Meetings

The Prevention Subcommittee will meet once a month, in the months between the previously scheduled PAC Meetings. Individual members will continue the work of the subcommittee between those meetings.

Education Subcommittee Charter

Overview

The President’s Advisory Committee for Sexual Assault Prevention (the “PAC”) is charged with conducting a comprehensive and objective evaluation of the University’s training, prevention, and response efforts, as well as policies and procedures.

Like the PAC, the Education Subcommittee will seek to be educated by and receive input from stakeholder groups and subject matter experts. The subcommittee will also be guided by best practices with proven success at other colleges and universities, focusing specifically on those practices with measurable successful outcomes.

Overall Role and Responsibility

The Education Subcommittee provides recommendations to the President Advisory Committee regarding the University’s education initiatives, by seeking input from campus stakeholders and subject matter experts.

Specific Responsibilities

The specific responsibilities of the Education Subcommittee include:

- Review current education best practices
- Collect and analyze institution specific data
- Complete an inventory of the University’s education programming
- Review how education programming has changed
- Define successful learning outcomes
- Collaborate with the Prevention Subcommittee
- Develop recommendations informed by data

Input from Stakeholders

To develop recommendations, the Education Subcommittee, at a minimum would like to hear from the following campus stakeholders and subject matter experts:

- PSMAs
- Spiders for Spiders
- SASAV
- White Ribbon
- Greek Affiliated Students
- Student Athletes
- Students who identify as LBGTQ

Membership

- Brittany Schaal, GC’16, Director of Emergency Management
Meetings

The Education Subcommittee will meet once a month, in the months between the previously scheduled PAC Meetings. Individual members will continue the work of the subcommittee between those meetings.
